

Canadian Society of Transplantation

Société canadienne de transplantation

774 promenade Echo Drive Ottawa ON K1S 5N8
Tel. 613 730-6274 Fax. 613 730-1116 E-M: cst@rcpsc.edu
Website: www.cst-transplant.ca

December 2008

The Boards of the Canadian Society of Transplantation (CST) and The Transplantation Society (TTS) have agreed to offer a joint membership in 2009 that will benefit the members as it is cheaper to join the two organizations together than to join separately (a saving of $30 for full members and $15 for associate members).

Benefits of being a CST member:

- Regular communications sent to members
- Reduced registration fees to attend the CST Annual Scientific Conference
- Receipt of CST Newsletter
- Access to membership part of the CST Website
- Access and participation into CST Special Interest Groups
- Access to CST Awards and fellowships.

Benefits of being a TTS member:

- Part of a global network of health care providers in the field of transplantation
- Reduced registration fees at TTS Congresses
- Access to membership part of TTS Website
- Free online access to Transplantation, the Journal of TTS
- Reduced rate for hard copy of Transplantation
- Access to TTS bursaries, awards and fellowships.

If you require more information regarding your membership renewal with CST or for joining CST and TTS, please do not hesitate to contact the CST office.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'G. Knoll'.

Greg Knoll
CST President

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Steven Paraskevas'.

Steven Paraskevas
Chair, CST Membership Committee